TENTH YEAR

EARLINGTON, HOPKINS COUNTY, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1890.

NO. 40

REPUBLICAN SPEAKING.

Large And Enthusiastic Audience Heard Judge W. H. Holt and Hon. Clifton J. Pratt

At Assembly Hall Last Night—Speeches Well Received and Greatly Applauded.

Judge W. H. Holt visited Madisonville on Wednesday and spoke on the issues of the campaign from the Republican standpoint. At 10 o'clock a special crowd gathered at the Hotel in the Tabernacle, and even those of opposite views declared the effort of the Judge a masterly handling of the subject. All Republicans were delighted with the effect produced.

At 7:30 Wednesday night Judge Holt appeared at the Hotel, Judge Pratt, at Assembly Hall, in Earlinton. So many at Mortons Gap and Barnsley desired to hear the distinguished speakers that Mr. John J. Atkinson arranged for train service to accommodate our neighbors.

The Assembly Hall was filled to overflowing with a most attentive, respectful and appreciative audience when Judge Pratt, at 8 o'clock called the meeting to order and introduced the distinguished guest. From the moment he entered the room and the glancing of his address, the people earnestly entered into the fullest sympathy with the speaker. A wonderful impression was made by his logical development and clear and forcible manner of putting his point and topic up to the world.

His explanation of Gobell's war methods were never so clearly presented before our people. Government by commission he claimed was the Goebel way and he handled every question up to the Election Law, Civil Service Bill, Prison Commission, and McCord Bill in a most convincing way.

A splendid tribute to the administration of President McKinley was greatly appreciated, and when he told us the way in which the records spoke of the Goebel administration it was evident that the Attorney General had contributed in a large measure to the result, great applause greeted his words. His figures as to how the deficit mounted up at the beginning of the Republican administration were received with great interest by banks and individuals in Frankfort, even to the extent of 40% astounded many. But when he read from the records, how all this had been changed, and the work of the administration up to the election of all officials against the State property; and instead of $1,18,000, to the credit of the hard work and brawny methods of the servants of the people at Frankfort who so nobly fulfilled their trusts, his audience was delighted.

At the conclusion of Judge Holt's remarks Judge Pratt, as he termed it, made an exhortation which was full of good sense, quiet humor and decided references to home and social themes. At the close of his remarks, one of the best political meetings Earlinton ever had was ended.

ELECTION LEAGUES.

Citizens of Kentucky Organizing to Prevent the Ballot.

When Tweed was in the plenitude of his power and owned the ballot boxes, the city government, the county government, the judiciary and seemed entrenched in invincibly behind the ramparts of corrupt power there was no equal to him who forced the people to submit to his will and to do his bidding. At the close of his remarks, one of the best political meetings Earlinton ever had was ended.

DEWEY DAY ON LAND.

The Gallant Admiral Has Another Proof that His Fellow-Countrymen Love Him.

LOVING CUP PRESENTED BY THE CITY.

Thus Comes the Great Land Parade, Witnessed by Many Thousands, Who Cheer and Choke the Man Who Planted Old Glory in the Philippines and Became a Hero-Maker.

New York, Oct. 1.—Yesterday was the greatest day in New York's history. The entire city, with its almost inconceivable masses to do honor to the hero of Manila Bay and the men who stood behind the guns, and it is safe to say that no military or naval hero ever received a greater ovation.

The day's events began with the presentation, at the city hall, of a magnificent loving cup, of solid gold, to Admiral Dewey, Mayor Van Wyck making the presentation in a most eloquent address, to which Admiral Dewey responded briefly but feelingly, concluding by presenting his captain to the assembled multitude as the men without whom he could have accomplished nothing.

The great land parade, in the admiral's honor was the most imposing that ever marched the streets of the metropolis, requiring nearly four hours to pass, the reviewing stand, with its governors and contingents of troops, and there was a good representation of veterans of the civil war. It is estimated that nearly 40,000 men were in line.

Applause for Olympia's Men.

As the parade got in motion, the crowds applauded with all their might the 250 men from the Olympia. The general had contributed in a large measure to the result, great applause greeted his words. His figures as to how the deficit mounted up at the beginning of the Republican administration were received with great interest by banks and individuals in Frankfort, even to the extent of 40% astounded many. But when he read from the records, how all this had been changed, and the work of the administration up to the election of all officials against the State property; and instead of $1,18,000, to the credit of the hard work and brawny methods of the servants of the people at Frankfort who so nobly fulfilled their trusts, his audience was delighted.

At the conclusion of Judge Holt's remarks Judge Pratt, as he termed it, made an exhortation which was full of good sense, quiet humor and decided references to home and social themes. At the close of his remarks, one of the best political meetings Earlinton ever had was ended.

VANDALS AT WACK.

New York, Oct. 3.—Vandals have begun the destruction of the beautiful Dewey memorial arch at Madison Square. The arch is made of steel, upon a frame of wood. The northernmost column of the colonade has been attacked by relic hunters, and large pieces of staff have been hacked away.

Charles A. Hinckley Captured.

Montreal, Oct. 3.—After the clutches of the law for 15 years Charles A. Hinckley has been arrested at Princeton, N. J., charged with the stealing of some $97,000 from the West Side bank of New York city. The officers of the bank have spent a fortune in hunting him down.

Admiral Phillip Remembered.

Dear-Admiral Phillip was another favorite. His devotion to his men at the battle of Santiago. Don't cheer, boys, they are dying, uttered when the Spanish fleet was wounded and sinking, was shouted at the bowing admiral time and time again.

At the reviewing stand.

Admiral Dewey, arrived at the reviewing stand at Madison Square at 1:45 o'clock. The enthusiasm and cheers that greeted his appearance were tremendous. Several times the crowd nearly broke through the police lines in their wild endeavor to get near the admiral. Police had expected the rush and succeeded in blocking it.

EARTHQUAKE IN ASIA MINOR.

Fifteen Hundred Persons Killed Appalling Extent of the Effects of the Shock.

Constantinople, Oct. 3.—It is now estimated that 1,500 persons perished in the earthquakes in Asia Minor, around Aldini. The first shock occurred at four in the morning of September 20, and lasted 40 seconds. The effects were appalling. Whole villages were completely destroyed. The earthquake whose sole object was the restoration of pure government by the overthrow of that intolerable rule. His sneering answer to remonstrances was: "What are you going to do about it?" Charles O'Connor, Samuel J. Tilden and a few more like unto them showed him what they were going to do about it. Judge Phillips were impeached, dismissed, disgraced; the mayor—perhaps only an innocent tool—was driven to England; Tweed was condemned at men used to committing outrages at election times will laugh at them; some will ask: "What are they going to do?" The answer depends largely upon what those who ask this question are going to do. If the state board selects county commissioners of known prophy of character, whose reputation secures confidence in honest, competent election officers; if the county boards appoint similar bodies of election, so that it becomes manifest that we are to have a fair and legal election, then the registration will be just, peaceful, full and honest; and the promise of such an election is certain, these leagues will have nothing to do. If the state board disengages itself and humiliates Kentucky by the appointment of known tricksters, and unscrupulous thimbleriggers; and they appoint similar election officers, these leagues will have much to say and more to do.

A Costly Famine.

New York, Sept. 30.—One of the Olympia's sailors has brought home two shells from the Spanish admiral's flagship, Reina Christina. They are highly polished and mounted on marble bases. The one to be presented to Miss Helen Gould as a token of loving remembrance of what she has done for the soldiers and sailors.

CONTRACTS between Goebel and the poor, oppressed citizen continue to be unheeded, in which Goebel handles damage claims for the said oppressed against the railroads upon conditions that give Goebel two dollars for every one he gains for the claimants. Truly he loves the poor and hath done them great charity.

We regret to note that the Democratic members of the Election Commission under the Goebel law declined to appoint, in two of the Madisonville precincts, those Republicans who had been designated by the Republican Committee and presented by the Republican election commissioner. We hope and believe that when the rest of the appointments for the county are made, due courtesy and proper regard will be shown the Republicans and all other voters, by naming in each precinct the competent and active men that have been chosen by Republican authority to look after the interests of the party and the people at the polls. Any tendency to ignore these recommendations cannot but be taken as a suggestion that the Democratic members of the county election board desire to take undue advantage of their honor. We believe these gentlemen will give us a fair election.

Must Guard Our Votes.

The Honest Election League in Louisville is gaining large membership and thorough organization. Its work at the polls will be most valuable. Such work will be needed not only in the cities but in the country. The people of every precinct must be constantly on guard from now until after the election to see that none lose their votes between this and election day and that all cast their votes and see them counted on election day. With vigilance on the part of the anti-Goebel forces, and every vote cast, there can be no doubt of Goebel's defeat. Upon good authority it is known that no less a personage than National Committeeman Urey Woodson holds this view privately, and the truth of this position is daily forcing itself upon all honest thinking men. One of the prominent Goebel leaders has proposed that five anti-Goebel votes be killed, lost or stolen in each precinct in the State. This would amount to twelve thousand votes in the State. Each individual voter must be on his guard. There are many ways the usurperopolous political managers have of disfranchising the necessary number of votes in a contest such as this.

Shall He Be Senator?

Naturally Goebel wants to be United States Senator. And Judge Pryor boldly says Goebel will not only be Governor, but Senator. And Judge Pryor is one of the Goebel Election Commissioners. He, of course, may be expected to do all in his power to make his prophecy come true. But the only way Goebel will ever reach the Governor's chair will be to disfranchise a large number of voters in Kentucky and his most earnest supporters are losing faith in the possibility of his election.

The question then arises "Would the people of Kentucky choose to see Mr. Goebel sent to the United States Senate after defeating him for Governor?" What sort of a victory over Goebelism would that be? If a man be not fit for Governor how much better is it to send him to exercise upon the affairs of the nation in the United States Senate those dangerous and detestable attributes which his opponents believe him to possess. Does political rascality and lack of scruple lose any of its power for evil by being given a wider field of operation?

The only way to defeat Goebel and Goebelism is to defeat it.

It was the necessity for an honest, reliable blood purifier and tonic that brought into existence Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is a highly concentrated extract prepared by a combination, proportion and process peculiar to itself and giving to Hood's Sarsaparilla unequalled curative power. AT MADISONVILLE.

Hon. Theodore Hallam Spoke From Court House Steps.

W. D. Orr Spoke Out in Meeting and Got a Roast.

Tuesday afternoon, Hon. Theodore Hallam, of Covington spoke at the court house steps. Col. John Dunn was in session and Judge Dunn did not adjourn court in favor of the speaking. Mr. Hallam therefore spoke from the court house steps to a standing audience of voters from various quarters of the county and town. Democrats were much pleased with his speech. During the speech, Mr. W. D. Orr, candidate for representative of the Goebel ticket and a supporter of Goebel, took exception to something Mr. Hallam said with reference to the miners. Mr. Hallam replied with spirit and the crowd served up a warm roast to the legislative candidate that more than paid for his indiscretion.

Red Hill Items.

Our farmers are busy gathering in their crops, hauling coal and preparing for the long winter days which Jack Frost has promised us will soon be here.

The Teachers' Association for this district was held at Macedonia last Thursday. A large number of teachers were present and spent a very pleasant day, while a very interesting program was carried out.

R. L. Price has sold his timber to Mr. Pat Wells, who will move his mill into our community in the near future.

We were glad to hear from Perkins last week. Some fears were entertained that he had gone astray. The last that was seen of him, he had a shotgun and a rifle and was headed for the hills and some were confused by their beauty and grandeur that he had committed suicide.

Chas. Miles has rented a farm near Madisonville for the coming year and together with his father's family will move there in the near future.

Mr. Farley Wrights the cause of his son, a four-year-old boy, a bewitching black headed lass by the name of—well, we won't say this name.

Andrew Bennett and family, of near Crofton, were the guests of John Bennett last week.

S. H. Grace and family will leave in a few days for Idaho, Mo., where they intend to make their future home.

R. L. Price has sold out of his farms to W. H. Davenport, who will move in our community in a short while.

Otho Price and Cordie Carroll had a visit to Earlinton last week. They ride the bumpers of course.

With a bowed head, a heavy heart and an empty pocket book, Harry Cash has made a solemn vow never to attend another picnic at Mannington.

Henry Davis has about abandoned the idea of ever making a professional baseball player. He says he loves the girls too well to leave them all behind.

Several of our young men will cast their first votes at the coming election in November and we are glad to understand that they will vote under the notorious banner of the grand old Republican party. May she never again know defeat, is the wish of U. No. Hoo.

ONE OF THE BOYS.

Invited to be the City's Guest.

Chicago, Oct. 1.—A special invitation was sent to-day by the Federal Committee to Sir Thomas Lipton, owner of the yacht Shamrock, asking him to be Chicago's guest at the laying of the corner stone of the new building next Monday.

The indications are that when the official record is completed on Monday next it will be found that the receipts of the government for the last three months have exceeded the expenditure by nearly $4,000,000.

STRONG PETITIONS.

Sent to Conference Asking For Return of Rev. R. M. Wheat.

Deserving Compliment and Endorsement of This Young Pastor.

Rev. Romeo M. Wheat preached his farewell sermon for the conference once yearly to a large congregation at the M. E. church, South, Sunday evening. He spoke in high terms and encouraged the people to be good citizens and to labor for a corporation. An old saying is, we should praise the horse that carries us over the stream safely. So should we vote again the man who would destroy the source from whence comes our meat and bread.

A new air shaft is being sunk for the Empire Coal Company.

How can it be possible for miners to be so blinded as to vote for a whole pronounced enemy of corporations? We are told to return to our former ways.

Pat Blair was here a short time last Saturday calling on friends. So rushed with work has he been that finds little time to visit.

Sold a miner from South Diamond mine, last Sunday: "We can't get time to even go out hunting, so great is the demand for our labor."

Charles Stokes, of the St. Bernard building force, after a sickness of a few weeks, is again able to resume work at the new black bins being constructed at the coke works.

Sold Secretary Atkinson on day last week when speaking of the great demand for coal: "We are now about one hundred and seventy cars with our local trade."

Con agent Hart, who represents the St. Bernard Coal Co., at Mt. Vernon, was the guest last week.

A coal agent from Nashville was here last week on the lookout for coal.

Burner says that during the coming winter St. Louis will consume one-third more coal than last winter and the question is, where will the fuel come from?

Some remarkably quick work in loading coal was done a few days ago at the Arnold mine says weight of Fred Flier; 30,000 lbs. being tipped and loaded in a car in eight minutes. He says the drivers put up a job on him by passing him a few dollars.

What mine in the State of Kentucky, and we might say, any State, can beat this record of loading a car in eight minutes.

In order to increase the output of the Barnsley mine, we understand that the St. Bernard Company will soon increase the mining force there.

As has been the custom for many years the St. Bernard Company will again gladden the hearts of their miners by paying them three cents a yard for loading coal for the next six months commencing October 1st.

With seven mines operated in this county, the St. Bernard Company are unable to come any way near supplying the heavy demand made upon them for coal this year thus far.

Weigher Fred Flier and force at work at the Arnold mine, feel proud and in fact should feel so, over the good record made last Friday when the locomotive was so slow in getting the coal off the train and it was not until the miners had been paid that the engine was moved.

Dr. Long comes to us highly recommended, and we take great pleasure in extending to him the right hand of welcome. He has a room over the St. Bernard Drugstore where he may be found whenever his services are needed.

Born.
Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wyatt, a boy baby on Friday, September 29.

New Baby.
Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Baldwin are the proud parents of a fine new boy who arrived in their home Saturday night. Congratulations.

Sover Repairs.
The bridge over the sewer in front of W. C. McLeod's store on Railroad street is being rebuilt. The work that is being done is very substantial and is quite an improvement over the old one.

Peculiar Ear of Corn.
Mr. W. W. Patterson of Madisonville, while walking out onto a mossy bank in the way of corn. Every grain in the ear had a separate stalk over it. Not only that, but the tassel is full of small grains of corn. This is certainly a very rare specimen. Mr. Patterson has our thanks for his kindness.

Slightly Disfigured.
The front part of Mr. G. W. Robinson's head is considerably disfigured, as the result of too close a contact with the ground. He was riding a wheel when he slipped and fell and got himself considerably bruised. The most embarrassing part of all was that, when he lay right in the public part of town where nearly everybody saw him. But George was a hero, and did not murmur nor complain beneath the chastening rod, but bore his pain like a man.

ELECTION COMMISSIONERS Can be Reached for Failure to Perform their Duties Under the Law.

From the Lexington Leader.
Editor Leader:—I see it is stated that the County Election Commissioners recently appointed in Fayette county under the new law, in the election and registration of voters, have appointed old and decrepit officers, who are not competent by reason of feeble-mindedness and advanced age to discharge their duties. If this is so, the County Commissioners should be held responsible for the appointment under Section 1557, of the Kentucky Statutes. In Purnell vs. Manu 29 Ky. L. R. pp. 1169, this section of the one of the sections under the law as to appointments is repeated. It says: "Any person, Commissioner or otherwise, who shall be appointed to perform his duty who shall wilfully neglect to perform it in such a way as to hinder the object of the election law, I slim only call your attention to this, so if there are grounds for prosecution it will be done."—John C. Cardwell reported by Mr. Cardwell is as follows:

"Any public officer upon whom a commission is conferred, shall be liable and a penalty provided for the violation thereof, who shall wilfully neglect to perform such duty, or who shall wilfully perform it in such a way as to hinder the object of this law, shall be punished by a fine of $50 and imprisonment in the county jail for two months."

Wonderful Discovery.

Louisville, Ky., April 16, 1898.

Dear Sirs:—I have been troubled with Liver and stomach complaint. I had no appetite and my general health was very bad. I took medicine from four different doctors and they all told me to go to New Orleans for relief until I began to use your Nubian Tea. I used about two dollars worth of it, and it did me more good than all the medicine I ever took. Now I have gained thirty-five pounds in weight and my health is very good. I can sleep soundly now. My appetite is excellent. I can recommend Planter's Nubian Tea to the world as being a God-send to any community. Any one who doubts this statement can write to me.

Rev. H. R. Coleman.

A contributor to the Penitentiary Review takes occasion to ask several questions in regard to Rev. H. R. Coleman, and it seems that he is in doubt as to Rev. Coleman's character or his standing as a minister.

Now we want to say a few words in regard to Rev. Coleman. He is a minister of the M. E. Church, South, in good standing and is a man whose character is above reproach. The only crime of which he is accused by his enemies is being opposed to Goebel and Goebelism, and this is a sin which is wick at fraud and injustice—has the interests of his fellow citizens too much at heart, to stand with and with folded hands and closed lips see their sacred rights stolen away from them to the end that he may be allowed to resort to any kind of means in order that their own selfish interests may be furthered. Hence, his fight against Goebelism. If being opposed to fraud, treachery and trickery, and attempting to expose Goebelism, is unchristian conduct of the Gospel then the majority of the ministers of Kentucky are very seriously discredited. But it does not disqualify them. They are doing their duty fearlessly and in the name of Christ.

Convict Wedding Gift.

Houston, Tex., September 30.—A sad story comes by private source from the state penitentiary at Huntsville. For two years the wife of a prisoner has lived at Huntsville, working herself to the bone, and awaiting the time for the expiration of the sentence of her husband, who has only another year to serve. It appears that his trouble was caused because of his devotion to the cause of the Negro. The people in the town, with whom he was in love, during the time the woman lived in Huntsville, she has regularly visited him on every occasion permitted by the prison rules, and a most trying couple they were, indeed. When she was released after much persuasion, that a free man was better than one in the penitentiary, and decided to marry a man who had importance her for a few weeks. She at once applied for a divorce on the ground that her husband had been guilty of bigamy, which is a statutory cause in Texas. Her lawyer went to the penitentiary to serve the process on the husband, who was working in the wood yard. The poor fellow listened quietly to the charge, then turned and raised his sharp chin in defiance, and, so the story goes, and, with one blow, smote off his right arm just below the elbow. Dropping the bloody limb, he picked up the quivering limb, and, handing it to the lawyer, said: "Present this as my wedding gift to you." He dropped in a faint, and has since been lying between life and death in the hospital.

During the winter of 1897 Mr. Jas. Reed, one of the leading citizens and merchants of Clay, Cleo, W. Va., and his legatees, lost a lot of money in a manner so as to bruise it severely. It became very much swollen and palmed him so badly that he could not walk without the aid of crutches. He was treated by physicians, also used several kinds of liniment and poultices, but nothing would do. Finally he began using Chamberlain's Pain Balm. This brought almost a complete cure in a week's time and the doctor who had treated him advised many a man to succumb besides giving strength and courage to thousands of women who, before taking it, could not even see any good in life to win.

Steward's House Burned.

The steward's residence at the Hotel Louisville, Louisville, Ky., was destroyed by fire on Sunday. Most of its contents, the property of Judge Anderson, the steward, were saved. The origin of the fire is not known. Loss several thousand dollars. Covered by insurance.

Washing Crock and Milk Vessels.

A great deal depends upon the care of crocks or pans in which milk is kept. They should be washed as soon as possible after being used. Rinse them with cold water, then wash thoroughly with soap and warm water, in which enough of Gold Dust Washing Powder has been dissolved to make a good suds. Finish by rinsing with cold water; wipe dry and set out, with right side up, in the fresh air and sunshine, and they will be clean and sweet.

Heavy Loss by Fire.

Bowling Green, Ky., Oct. 2.—At 8 o'clock this morning fire broke out in the hardware store of W. A. Rose & Co., at Centerville. It spread quickly and destroyed the large storehouses of Foster, Woodard & Co., and Bowles & Morton, together with the contents of the stores. The loss is at least $25,000 with only $2,000 insurance, held by Foster, Woodard & Co. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Heavy Spence Dead.

Mr. George Spence died at his home in the large lot near the residence of Mr. J. H. Evans, caught fire Monday morning from sparks from a passing train. It was extinguished, however, by Mr. F. B. Arnold and others before any damage was done. It is about the time of year for forest fires to burn everything, and it is feared that many homes may be done in this way.

Creeks, Col., Oct. 1.—S. B. Remsen, county surveyor, claims to have witnessed the outbreak of a volcano 20 miles from this city Friday afternoon. He says the explosion occurred near the Santa Maria Lakes, and lasted less than an hour. He approached to within 600 feet of the upheaval and says that the heat was very uncomfortable at that distance. A party left here for the scene yesterday to obtain full particulars.

OUTRAGE AT LEXINGTON

Characteristic Goebel Method of Deception.

HIS GANG WILL DO THE COUNTING

Action of Fayette County Election Commission Strikingly Displays 'Goebel's Designing Hand—Organization of Honest Men Necessary to Protect the Honest and Truthful Deserter.'

The entire state should be aroused by the attack of the Goebel machine in Fayette county upon a free ballot and a fair count.

It is bold defiance of the people; it is a declaration of war on the ballot-box; it is a determined preparation for a stupendous crime.

This is the first response to the action of Messrs. Pryor and Ellis in packing 119 county election boards with Goebel men. We believe this original error was due to partisan zeal, and not to any desire to wrong any man, but we pointed out at the time that the course of Messrs. Pryor and Ellis in giving to one faction of one party a majority of every county board in the state would be taken by the county politicians as their instructions to "do all for Goebel."

In Lexington the Fayette county commissioners have acted promptly and audaciously, and if the people of Fayette intend to have a fair election they must meet the crisis courageously and at once.

Believing that Messrs. Pryor and Ellis desire to secure a fair expression we urge on them the removal of the commissioners appointed last week in Fayette county.

They have the power to do this. It is an extraordinary power, and in our judgment it was put in the law for no such purposes as that for which we urge the commissioners to use it. But it can never be used again so effectively, so beneficially.

Remove the commissioners of Fayette county and put men in their places who many names will command public confidence.

So doing, gentlemen of the commission, you can reassure a disturbed people. So doing you can go far to counteract the evil consequences that must otherwise follow the appointment of two or three Goebel men on everyone of the 119 county election boards.

Not only must the people of Kentucky have a fair election this year, they must, in advance, have an assurance of a perfectly fair election. The issues involved are too serious to be left for a moment.

The consequences of ill-advised actions may prove most momentous.

The action of the Fayette commission is at once a threat and a menace. They threaten the people with disqualification and they constitute a menace to order in this commonwealth.

When Mr. Goebel prepared to seize from an unwilling convention a nomination for governor, he emptied 322 seats by a minority vote, and then seated enough of his henchmen to give them control.

The nomination following that act has produced a revolt within the party to which our recent history gives no parallel.

It has been a peaceful revolt, because the people have believed that there was yet one more appeal for justice. They have made that appeal to the ballot box.

Now count in Fayette county is to be tampered with. Is it possible, gentlemen, that you believe the people of Kentucky will suddenly accept the decision from a debauched ballot box?

We do not. Because we do not believe they either will accept or ought to accept such a decision. We make this pastoral appeal to you, Judge Pryor, to you, Captain Ellis, to intervene and stop the proceedings already inaugurated in Fayette county.—Louisville Post.

Goebel's Proximity.

When Editor Morris said to William Goebel, "Senator, if you publish this article it will bring on serious trouble with Sandford," what was the response of this immaculate candidate for governor, by grace and favor of force, fraud, treachery and the police and firemen of Louisville? "O—d—him; that's what I want." Read the vile and infamous article which William Goebel wrote and caused to be published in the Covington Ledger and Mr. Tom Pettit is amazed. It may be that William Goebel does not smoke, but that he is profane and uses in his language in his home town is known.

"Before we started up town," said Jack Hendrick, referring to the killing of Sandford, "we had several toddies," and the "we" comprised William Goebel and himself.

As Others See Him.

During a recent political speaking at Mt. Sterling Judge Redwine, who so ably did Mr. Goebel's bidding at the Louisville convention, was one of the auditors. He waited late into the session, sat outside, and then sauntered about the hall and said, "The latter was all attention; but as the speaker progressed he began to manifest considerable uneasiness. Finally he turned to his neighbor and in a Irish whisper said:

"Why don't he say something about Redwine? He's the damned rascal we farmers are after."

And the judge was so silent that you could have heard an aye wisk.—Mayville Ledger.

At Lexington, Ky., on September 27, 1890, the Taylor and Pratt club met and reorganized with a number of colored voters. Quite an interest was manifested. A Few "Thats."

Tennyson could take a sheet of paper and write upon it worth $100,000—in general.

The St. Bernard Coal Company can write a few words on it and make it worth thousands—that's capital.

A mechanic can take a piece of metal worth $5, and make it into watch springs worth $1,000—that's skill.

A bold carrier can work ten hours and handle several tons of earth for $1.50—that's labor.

Some people depend on everything but hard work for success—that's bankrupt.

Most parents expect their children to be educated going to school every other day or week with only a part of the required articles, or none at all—that's foolishness.

More than fifty per cent of children of school age are attending school.

But less than fifteen per cent attend Sabbath School—per chancelessness.

There are people who are so anxious to have their children educated, yet they do not want to pay school taxes—that's nonsense.

There are people who wish their children to become intelligent men and women, yet their children live in the streets and have but little home restraint—that's inconsistency.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

LESSON II, FOURTH QUARTER, INTER NATIONAL SERIES, OCT. 8.

Text of the Lesson, Est. III, I-II, Memory Verses, 5, 6—Golden Text, Hom. viii, 31—Commentary Prepared by the Rev. D. M. Stearns.

[Copyright, 1890, by D. M. Stearns.]

1. After these things did King Abasius promote Hanan, the son of Hammedath, Agagite, to be his chief minister and set him over all the princes that were with him. This wicked man and other wicked men, placed in positions of power and authority, make us think of Dan, iv, 17, "The Most High ruleth in the kingdom of men and giveth it to whom he listeth." We have seen in the book of Ezra how the enemies of God and His people were permitted to prosper over a certain point, but were in due time overcome. In this book of Esther we see the enemy prospering wonderfully for a time, but suddenly and fearful was downfall.

2. And all the king's servants that were in the king's gate bowed and reverenced Haman, for the king had so commanded concerning him, but Mordecai bowed not nor did him reverence. Here is a man who is like Daniel and his friends, and the friends of God, who fears God, and is an enemy of God he will not bow, let the reader be sure what it may. Because of Amalek's rebellion against God and His people it had been determined to blot out the remembrance of him and his seed, Gen. xiv, 10; Ex. xxxv, 17-19. Had Mordecai bowed to Haman he would have done so to an enemy of God, and this he would not do.

3. Then the king's servants which were in the king's gate said unto Mordecai, Why transgressest thou the king's commandment? For he is the king but Amasius. Like the Jews we have no king but Caesar (John xii, 15). Many who bear the name of Christian would have to confess if they spoke truly, "O Lord, our God, we have sinned against thee and we have sinned over us (Isa. xxvi, 18). Many there are who continually break the first commandment, Thou shall have no other gods before me (Ex. xx, 3). Mordecai could truthfully say: The Lord is my lawgiver, the Lord is my judge, and the Lord is my king. If we have no other gods before me (Isa. xx, 3).

4. Now, it came to pass, when they spake daily unto him and he hearkened not unto them, that they told Haman to see whether Mordecai's matters would stand for the king's commandment. The king's commandment was established and therefore removed by the command words of the king's servants. He believed God, for that is the only way to be established (II Chron. xx, 20; Isa. viii, 9). The word for us is, Be ye fully armed, stand fast, as unto strength of armor, according to the work of the Lord (I Cor. xvi, 13).

We should say with Paul: With me it is a very small thing that I should be judged of you or of man's judgment. He that judgeth me is the Lord (I Cor. i, 3, 4).

5. "And when he thought to himself, I am a righteous man, and I have done all the commandments of God. He wanted even the Son of God to worship him (Math. xix, 20) and his followers have the same spirit. Therefore Cain killed Abel, Pharaoh killed the male children of Israel. Herod killed the babes in Bethlehem, and so it went on. The world is full of misery, death shall be destroyed (I Cor. xv, 26). It is bad enough when the world of the wicked to watch the righteous and seek to slay him, but the Lord will not suffer it unless it is for the highest good and greatest glory of the righteous (Isa. xxxviii, 32, 33).

6. It is well known that Jesus Christ is the Son of God, and therefore His death is the devil's weapon (Isa. li, 14). Therefore Cain killed Abel, Pharaoh killed the male children of Israel. Herod killed the babes in Bethlehem, and so it went on. The world is full of misery, death shall be destroyed (I Cor. xv, 26).

7. It is well known that Jesus Christ is the Son of God, and therefore His death is the devil's weapon (Isa. li, 14). Therefore Cain killed Abel, Pharaoh killed the male children of Israel. Herod killed the babes in Bethlehem, and so it went on. The world is full of misery, death shall be destroyed (I Cor. xv, 26).

8. And Haman said unto King Ahasuerus, There is a certain people scattered abroad and dispersed among the people in all the provinces of the kingdom; and their laws are diverse from all people; neither keep they the king's laws. These are the enemies of the king.

9. And the king said, Who is it that deviseth mischief upon them? That they devise mischief upon their beds and set themselves in the right side of the ship, and ye shall be destroyed (I Cor. xv, 26).

10. It is well known that Jesus Christ is the Son of God, and therefore His death is the devil's weapon (Isa. li, 14). Therefore Cain killed Abel, Pharaoh killed the male children of Israel. Herod killed the babes in Bethlehem, and so it went on. The world is full of misery, death shall be destroyed (I Cor. xv, 26).

11. And the king said unto Haman, Who is it that deviseth mischief upon them? That they devise mischief upon their beds and set themselves in the right side of the ship, and ye shall be destroyed (I Cor. xv, 26).

12. And the king took his ring from his hand and gave it unto Haman, the son of Hammedath, the Agagite, the Jews' enemy. Thus the doom of the Jews against Paul and Silas was. These men, being Jews, do exceedingly trouble the king, and the king, who is not lawful for us to receive, neither to observe, being Romans (Acts xvi, 20, 21). But nothing was ever said about any one quite so bad as that which our Lord's enemies and about Ham, the pure and holy Lamb of God.

13. It is well known that Jesus Christ is the Son of God, and therefore His death is the devil's weapon (Isa. li, 14). Therefore Cain killed Abel, Pharaoh killed the male children of Israel. Herod killed the babes in Bethlehem, and so it went on. The world is full of misery, death shall be destroyed (I Cor. xv, 26).

14. And the king said unto Haman, Who is it that deviseth mischief upon them? That they devise mischief upon their beds and set themselves in the right side of the ship, and ye shall be destroyed (I Cor. xv, 26).

15. And the king said unto Haman, Who is it that deviseth mischief upon them? That they devise mischief upon their beds and set themselves in the right side of the ship, and ye shall be destroyed (I Cor. xv, 26).
